-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Detailed Action

1.) The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2.) Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Taylor (4,027,136). In figure 1 and at the discussion in column 2, lines 50-65, the patent to Taylor (4,027,136) discloses a stud welding device with features claimed including: a stud holder 18 with a pointed region at 30 for holding a weld stud B; a device 20 having a rim at its front end, preventing electrical contact in the manner claimed.

3.) The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4.) Claims 3 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Taylor (4,027,136) taken with the French document no. 2,190,563 (cited by applicant) supplemented by its Derwent English abstract. The only aspect of the claims to which the rejection above does not apply is the provision for the insulating means to be arranged on the terminal face of the pointed region of the stud holder and for the insulating means to be formed of plastic. These differences do not patentably distinguish over the prior art. At the time applicant's invention was made, it would have been obvious to have used any known configuration for the insulating spacing means 20 disclosed in Taylor (4,027,136). In particular, it would have been obvious to have used a configuration whereby the spacing means extended over the terminal face of the stud holder and was formed from plastic, the motivation being the teachings of the French document no. 2,190,563 that such is advantageous (see element 6 in figure 2 of the French document no. 2,190,563, note that element 6 extends over the terminal face of stud holder 4 and note that it is plastic as set forth in the Derwent English abstract).

5.) The patents to Ettinger et al. (3,582,602) and Falcone et al. (3,321,607) are cited to show prior art stud welders with insulation arrangements at the stud holder.
